

Creating your eBook part 2

Now that you have your niche content and your research done (if you're not sure check the archive for part 1) it is now time to check through your eBook and ensure the content is exactly what you are looking for and free from typo's and errors. It is sometimes a good idea to have a friend look over your work for you. This will reassure you that your product is in good condition and proof read.

Note If you did not get your eBook created and got stuck, drop me an email and we can talk about it.

Once you are completely happy with your eBook, it is now time to add your affiliate links, website links, newsletter links, up sell links and so on. You now need to find strategic points of insertion to ensure maximum click through.

If you do not have anything to promote, check out www.clickbank.com and www.cj.com these are great free affiliate programs which you can generate commission sales from.

Login to the market place and check out the commissions in Clickbank.

Click the Marketplace link and search the Business to Business category and use the key words eBay for an example. You will now see a bunch of advertisers with links to their sales pages with two more links under the explanation, called "View Pitch Page" which is the same as the sales page link at the top. And the most important link "Create Hop Link" upon clicking this link you will see two fields, Nickname and Tracking. The Nickname field is all you need to be concerned with at the moment. "Now you are thinking

I do not have a nickname” There is a simple signup and registration link to click just below the tracking link. Signup and get your nickname and insert it to the nickname field of the hop link you want.

Once you have your links you can insert them to your eBooks. Try to place them at points of reference e.g. "for more information (on your chosen product) Click Here."

Once you have placed your affiliate links, website links or links to newsletters, eBay shops and higher priced items you are ready for the conversion. www.openoffice.org has a PDF converter integrated with it. If you are using another word program, you can use any of these free converters to convert your material to PDF.

“Why PDF and not just text format?”

Word files can be altered and your links can be removed by others, so a PDF is safer and un-editable. Click Here for an example of a PDF format conversion of this newsletter.

Until next time.

Thank you for reading,

Kind regards,
